

DEVELOPING THE ONLINE INSTRUCTOR

This advanced train the online trainer course will discuss the tactics required to successfully transition to the online learning environment. The course covers key concepts, including:

- Connecting through technology
- Learning management platforms
- Instructor engagement
- Student engagement
- Designing Instruction Plans

Training material: Includes a detailed participant manual.

As organizations transition from classroom to online instruction, finding qualified ONLINE instructors can be one of the greatest challenges organizations face.

- Instructors must know the fundamental differences between physical & digital instruction.
- Engaging students requires enhanced skills beyond those used in the physical classroom.
- Challenges include both accessing and using technology as well as recognizing both instructor and learner engagement differences.

Price: $399.00 (U.S.)

Format of this course will be:

One online session of four hours, Utilize Microsoft Teams and discuss other online learning platforms, two in-class assignments, and two field-work assignments to be submitted within 30 days of the end of the course.

Dr. Glen Kitteringham, M.Sc., CPP, MSI, has worked in the security industry since 1990. He obtained his Professional Doctorate in Security Risk Management from the University of Portsmouth and holds the Certified Protection Professional designation from ASIS International. He earned multiple certificates in Adult Learning from the University of Calgary between 2010 and 2020. He taught several courses at the University of Calgary from 2008 to 2021 and the Justice Institute of British Columbia from 2010 to 2022. With over 30 years of experience in security and management, he has the knowledge and expertise to develop training programs tailored to meet the needs of today's security practitioners. He has recently been acknowledged as a Master Security Instructor by the International Foundation for Protection Officers.